

SAFE SPACE

CREW BIOS

DIRECTOR

Ava'Marie is an emerging creative and filmmaker in Silver Spring, Maryland. An outspoken fierce advocate for her community, she's worked on numerous documentaries and PSA's raising awareness for issues she's passionate about – now she's set her sights on BGFC. @avarnld

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR

Auset Adams is a 16-year-old filmmaker and writer from Baton Rouge, Louisiana, and member of the 2025 Black Girls Film Camp cohort. She received the Most Original Story and Best Directing awards for her short film "black(out)," which is currently making its rounds on the film festival circuit.

@ausetieconfetti

PRODUCER

Erika is a multifaceted creative who's mastered every corner of production from on-set execution to crafting powerful stories in post. With a 360° view of the industry, she's on a mission to amplify the voices of Editors and raise awareness for their vital role in storytelling. Passionate about empowering others; Erika champions visibility, shares resources, and lives by the motto: "Each One, Teach One." @theeditorsplug

EDITOR

Georgia Jenkins is a Washington, DC-based filmmaker. With a deep love of film and a passion for visual storytelling, she has produced and edited a diverse slate of projects from shorts and documentaries, to experimental pieces, that have been screened at numerous film festivals across the country. @possiblygeorgia

CINEMATOGRAPHER/DIRECTOR OF PHOTOGRAPHY

Born and raised in Silver Spring, MD, Edgar Romero understands the power of mentorship and community. His filmmaking journey began with One Step at a Time, an award-winning short documentary about the Montgomery County Conservation Corps that launched his career. With over 10 years in the film industry, Edgar brings both storytelling expertise and lived experience in youth development and community empowerment.